SHK MOSCOW 2005 – 9th International Trade Fair for Sanitation, Heating Airconditioning, Building Automation : Biggest event since its inception!

The ninth SHK MOSCOW will be held at the SAO Expocentr exhibition grounds in Krasnaja Presnja, Moscow from 23 to 26 May 2005. Approximately 300 exhibitors from 20 countries will be occupying about 7,600 net exhibition space to present their innovations with respect to space and water heating, pipelines, fittings, refrigeration, air-conditioning, sanitary or environmental engineering.

With around 1000 m² more occupied space than at the previous event in 2004 (299 exhibitors, 6,619 m²), the SHK MOSCOW can now already post a record result: it is the largest fair since its première in 1997 (111 exhibitors, 3,736 m²). Yet, not only the figures, but also the names of the exhibitors, such as, for example, Riello, CTC Bentone, Oilon, Buderus, IMI International, Viessmann, Vaillant, BBT Thermotechnik, Weishaupt, Rosenberg or Gea, confirm the fair's status as a leading event in Russia. An especially positive feature and a further indication of the growing importance of the Russian SHK market: the exhibitor participations from Italy and Germany have reached an all-time high with 16 and 60 firms respectively.

Product innovations and new business contacts with market leaders in the industry – anyone wanting to utilise the opportunities of the Russian market will find them at the SHK MOSCOW 2005. The SHK MOSCOW is the meeting place for all those who attach importance to high-quality information about the Russian construction industry and investment projects and are seeking direct contact with the top decision-makers in the industry. The organisers are Messe Düsseldorf and Messe Düsseldorf Moscow, supported by the EHI – Association of the European Heating Industry, FGK – Professional Institute of Air Conditioning in Buildings, ABOK – Russian Association of Engineers for Heating, Ventilation, Air-Conditioning, Heat Supply and Building Thermal Physics, APIK – Association of Russian Air-Conditioning Specialists and the City of Moscow.
